

Play Houses To Have Good Bills Christmas Week

"Legitimates" All Have New Offerings and Film Houses Have Features.

All the picture theaters are offering new, strong bills for the coming week and the "legitimate" houses will also offer new bills.

The Bell family closes its big week of vaudeville at the Colon Sunday night and, beginning Monday, a new company of artists, giving performance only in Spanish, will open the house.

E. F. Maxwell will continue his "Tankie Doodle in Berlin" picture at the Crawford until next Wednesday night to replace it with "A Bird of Paradise" on Christmas day, ending for three days.

James Fulkerson will change the bill of the Alhambra Musical Comedy company Sunday evening. The picture will also be changed.

Managers of the various picture theaters offer the following bills for the week.

Alhambra Program.
Starting Sunday and continuing through the week—"Little Johnny Jones" by George M. Cohan; also "The Greenish-Prish-Howard" trio, with new songs, as the added feature.

"Out Tigger," starring Olive Thomas, will be shown as part of the Alhambra program.

At the Bijou.
Sunday and Monday—"Hall Room Boys" comedy. "Nothing But Nerve" for new reel. "Poppy Comedy," "Buncoed Buncoed," and a western feature, "The Best of the Best," in two reels.

Tuesday and Wednesday—George Walsh in a William Fox production, "The Heart." The current events reel will be the other feature on the program.

Thursday and through Saturday—William Russell in the great stage success, "The Lincoln Highwayman," a Fox feature by Basil Dickson.

Crawford Theater.
Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—"Tankie Doodle in Berlin," a Mack Sennett comedy, with a very beautiful bathing girl.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday—Pauline Frederick in "The Loves of Lenny," also new Ford weekly, music by Devereaux Brothers orchestra and May Duggan Wilson at the Alhambra organ.

Wednesday and for the remainder of next week—"A First National attraction, "The Bird of Paradise," adapted from James Oliver Curwood's famous story "Wapi, the Wapiti," with Neil Shuman, the famous diving beauty, in the leading role. Special music by Devereaux Brothers orchestra and May Duggan Wilson at the Alhambra organ.

Garden Features.
Sunday and Monday—Dustin Farnum in "The Virginian."
Tuesday and Wednesday—Pauline Frederick in "Sold," and Joe Martin, the funniest monkey in "Monkey Stuff."

Christmas—Corinne Griffith in "A Girl at Bay."
Friday—Beulah Love in "Carolyn, of the Corners."

Gremlin Attractions.
Today and tomorrow—Larry Semon in his latest two reel comedy, "Lew Dink Law," and, the drama "Bill, Tempest Cody Bides Wild," new western, and "Tots and Jewelry," his Y comedy.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—

Will She, Too, Gain Fame Upon American Stage?

All Her Predecessors in the Role Have Won Fame and Money, Too.

It has become the belief in theaterdom that whoever plays the title role in "The Bird of Paradise," Richard Walton Tully's romantic drama of Hawaii, which comes to the Crawford next week, is almost certain to attain theatrical fame. Beulah Love, now a high-salaried screen star, created the part when the play was originally produced in Los Angeles, eight years ago. For the New

MISS FLORENCE ROCKWELL

York premier, Laurette Taylor, was chosen as the unfortunate princess. Her success in "The Bird of Paradise" led to her engagement in "Fog O' My Mind."

Alma Hamlin in Stuart Holmes's special attraction, "The Ring of the Children." This picture will be presented to adults only.

Thursday and Friday—Barle Williams in his new Vitaphone society drama, "When Man Loves."

Saturday—"Bill of anor subjects."

Rialto Attractions.
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—"Victory," a Paramount-United special; also a comedy; prologue, as usual, and the orchestra.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday—"Behind the Door," a Paramount-United special; also Rialto Paramount magazine and a Rialto comedy. Special Christmas stage settings will be the feature.

At the Unique.
Starting Saturday—Nazimova in a return showing of "The Brat."

Starting Thursday—Al Jennings, the notorious former bandit, in "The Lady of the House."

Wigwam Program.
Sunday—Al St. Johns in his Paramount-United special comedy.

CHURCH PUTS IN PICTURES

Installs Movies to Increase Scope of Community Service.

The First Methodist Episcopal church is installing a standard motion picture machine and will, in the near future, according to announcement, have a complete program of community service for the screen workers out. The auditorium will be used and a wide range of films will be presented, carefully selected in view of the distinctive field of community service.

The Sunday ones will be entirely such as accord with the educational and religious ideals of the church. There is no thought of competing with the commercial show houses nor to use the pictures for commercial purposes, according to church officials.

The Transcontinental Membership Airplane Race, by the First Methodist Sunday school, announced last Sunday, was launched this week at a noon luncheon at the Central T building.

Some 25 "airplanes" will start next Sunday at 9:45 a. m. The distance will be 4500 miles, New York to San Francisco. A large map of the United States will be placed outside of the church, on which the progress of the "races" will be indicated. Within the church progress of the race will be shown in more detail.

The object are 100 new members by January 11, 50 per cent increase in attendance at Sunday school, increased interest and attendance of Sunday school members in church services, and promoting volunteer service for others by members.

"Heart." She is today one of America's leading actresses.

Then came Lenore Ulric, whose interpretation of the role won her fame and recognition from the Atlantic to the Pacific. David Belasco obtained her services after seeing her perform in the part. Then followed Carlotta Monterey. Next came May Buckley, the well-known actress. She was followed by Marjorie Starr, who is now in the staided, appearing in the Tully play.

Last season Marian Hutchins was the Hawaiian princess. She now has a lucrative contract with a Los Angeles motion picture company. Florence Rockwell, the present portrayer, has been a prominent leading woman for several years, having appeared here in the support of Robert H. Manly, Henry Miller, Guy Bates Post, Nat Goodwin and other notable stars.

"Speed," other comedies and McDougall's Dixie Jazz orchestra.

Monday and Tuesday—"His Divorced Wife," one of the "Big Twelve" special features.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday—"A Little Brother of the Rich," from Joseph Medill Patterson's play, with an all star cast which includes J. Barney Sherry, Kathryn Adams and Frank Mayo.

Saturday—McDougall's Dixie Jazz orchestra and an all comedy bill.

FULKERSON ADDS PEOPLE TO CAST AT THE ALHAMBRA

Manager Vance Fulkerson, of the Alhambra, is continuing to add new talent to his company. Phyllis Gordon, who was named by Julius Ellinger, will join the company during the week.

Among the new people added recently is Max Asher, former screen comedian with Keystone, Klio Arts and other picture concerns; Ralph Bell, from the Marston stock company, also with Dustin Farnum in "The Virginian"; Greenleaf, Turk and Howard, from Morris Low's theater in New York and more recently from the Ackerman Harris theater in Chicago; comedy singing trio, Jack Clifford, two seasons with "Bringing Up Father," playing the title role of Pops himself; and Miss McLaughlin, an operatic prima donna, who has a splendid voice and formerly sang with the Farnum company.

Besides these new people, Mr. Fulkerson has retained the former favorites and the beauty chorus is still intact.

Body Of Once Famous Star Is Unclaimed

Beautiful Mata Hari, Executed as Spy, Lies in an Unmarked Grave.

By NEWTON C. PARKER.
Paris, France, Dec. 20.—The body of Mata Hari, once famous Parisian dancing star, who was executed for communicating intelligence to the Germans, lies in the dreary graveyard outside Vincennes prison, unclaimed by any one of the thousands who were once her admirers.

Relatives of practically every notorious spy who faced firing squads at Vincennes have reclaimed their bodies and borne them away. Not a single application was made in behalf of the girl whose name was once a household word and who sold to her friends a few years before her execution.

"When I die I want to be well embalmed and become a beautiful mummy, like Thais."

Marie Pacha, another of the traitors executed at Vincennes, still rests near Mata Hari. His brother, a priest, had made several attempts to reclaim the body, but has always been refused by the authorities on the ground that only Mata Hari's wife has the right to make such a request.

The woman who bore Mata Hari's name for ten years before his death is not legally recognized as his wife and has been unable to make a claim.

Mme. Lenoir, mother of Pierre Lenoir, the last spy to be executed at Vincennes prison, has finally obtained permission to remove the body to another cemetery. She first was permitted to have a religious service in the cemetery, but only the family was allowed to attend.

The corpse of Duval, another of the traitors who paid the penalty at Vincennes, was reclaimed by his wife several months ago.

May Introduce Confession Of New At Trial

Both Sides Hope to Conclude Case by Christmas Time.

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 20.—A second and more lengthy confession, alleged to have been made by Harry New, on trial for the murder of his sweetheart, Freda Lesser, will be offered as evidence when the case is resumed Monday morning, according to announcement by the prosecution.

There was no session today of the court where New's trial is in progress.

The state's evidence probably will be all in by Monday night, according to the prosecution, which was made by the state's attorney, according to announcement by the prosecution.

They hoped to complete the case by Christmas. An important point, according to both sides, was made by the prosecution when judge Gavin W. Craig permitted the introduction of one confession alleged to have been made by New's wife over his counsel's objection.

Wales Glad To Be Where It's Wet Again

London, Eng., Dec. 20.—The prince of Wales, presiding at the annual dinner of the Licensed Victuallers' association, referred to his tour in America and raised a laugh by saying that he was happy to find himself back in London, where a man didn't even have to pretend to be dry.
